From Matt... In January, we concluded our reflections on what it means to be a “Sent” Church. Being sent means that we are moving, acting, striving towards a specific goal and purpose. The day that a church no longer lives with a sense of its “sent-ness” is the day that it no longer finds a place in God’s plan. This, I’m convinced, is why most churches die. They forget why they exist. They forget Jesus’ purpose in establishing His church.

As a reminder that we’re sent and that we’re sent to specific people, you have helped me put names on our front wall in the sanctuary. Regardless of anything else you’ve resolved to pray about in 2019, please let those names find a place in your prayers. Pray for evangelists (myself included!) to have opportunities to speak the Gospel plainly and courageously to them. Pray for church planters who might reach them in other cities. Pray for missionaries to reach people just like them in other countries. Let’s give God the opportunity to show His faithfulness and promise-keeping power this year. Let’s pray for our mission constantly, join God in His work, and watch His faithfulness come alive in our church.

Loose change in today’s collection will go to the Shults-Lewis Children’s Home.

Jesus, Hope for Families
by: Lawrence Barr

Even Jesus experienced the sad condition of his own brothers (Joseph's and Mary's children, John 7:3-5) not believing in him. But the conquering of sin and death by Him in His crucifixion and resurrection led at last to the numbering of his family among the believers (Acts 1:14).

In an amazing revelation, we're told that Jesus counts all who put their faith in Him as brothers (Hebrews 2:10-13). So even if family members turn against us because of Jesus (Matthew 10:36), we are all brothers in the family of God.

But the very relationship we enjoy in the family (church) of God gives us practical ways to have better families (Ephesians 5:21-6:4). Instead of being antagonists to each other, we instead submit to one another. We put our own selves in second place to the ever-present need to serve, love, respect and care for each other. Men are even told to die (to themselves and sometimes literally) for their wives. Women stop trying to control, but willingly submit to the loving leadership of their husbands. Parents care for and train (by example and by teaching) their children to follow the Lord's way. If you haven't tried it, come join us as we learn how! It works! (via Bulletin Gold)
