Be the Sermon Sunday 2019

Be the Sermon Sunday is an event that intends to send us into our community as a church for various acts of kindness, love, and generosity. Our target date, barring any serious obstacles, will be May 5. The day will look something like this: after worship, all participating church members will immediately divide into teams and head into our community with specific discipleship projects to complete. Here's the plan:

- Sign up on the posted sign-up sheets
- Wear "Be the Sermon" T-shirt and "work clothes" to the worship service on Be the Sermon Sunday
- At the conclusion of the worship service, we will break up into teams and each team will be given a discipleship project to complete (estimated time of completion: 1–2 hours)
- Participating team members will be given sack lunches to take with them.
- As the projects are completed, team members are free to go home.

IGNITE

IGNITE will NOT meet tonight due to the Spring Retreat.

Sermon Notes

In Jesus' story, Saturday is an "in-between" time. What versions of "Saturday" do we live? _____

Jesus' death is a "third-day" story. How are many third-day stories used in the Bible? _____

How do followers of Jesus act in the middle of their "Saturdays," their "in-between" times? _____

Rob Bell, former evangelical pastor, once said in his famously stimulating way, "We live between the trees in a world that is drenched in God." He was talking about the overall picture that the Bible paints of human history. The human story begins in a garden with a tree at the center (see Genesis 2). And, according to the Bible, the human story "ends" in a garden-city with a tree at the center (see Revelation 22). Therefore, all of human history, including our own lives, are lived between the trees.

What does this say, then, about the day-to-day human experience? It says that in very real ways, we live our lives in a kind of "in-between" moment. We live between God's two trees, between the moment when He offered life and our human parents said, "No" and when He offers life again to everyone who has longingly said "Yes." In between these offers, God has placed pointers to Himself throughout all creation. He did not leave Himself without witness. To re-use Bell's words, we live in a God-drenched world.

Today, we're talking about the Saturday in-between the Friday of Jesus' death and the Sunday of Jesus' resurrection. This is almost a small-scale picture of human history "between the trees." Saturday is an in-between time, a time between two great offers of life (Jesus' offer while alive and His offer after returning to life). But what do we make of the time spent waiting, wondering, fearing, hoping, and not knowing? What do we do with the time "in-between"? We'll talk about that today.
