ORDER OF WORSHIP
July 21, 2019

Welcome to Worship!
We're so glad you're here!

We're Getting Old

#143 We Have Come into His House
 #246 You're the One

WELCOME/OPENING PRAYER: Matt Carver

No, I'm not talking about your personal age. I'm talking about churches across the country, including ours. All the way back in 2001, a U.S. Census Bureau reported that adults ages 18 to 29 comprised 22% of the adult population in the U.S. And yet the same age group represented less than 10% of church attendees nationwide. Today, the situation isn't any better. Our churches are aging. What does this mean? It means that, as far as U.S. churches are concerned, our future is fading as quickly as our hair.

#257 Jesus Is Lord
 #1002 As the Deer
 #336 And Can It Be

COMMUNION: John Harvester

What, then, can we do? In the words of a recent book written on the subject, we have to "grow young." "Oh, you mean we've got to prioritize the youth, and give them everything they want, and basically give up the church that I've known and loved for years?" Well, kinda. Here's what I mean: It is the responsibility of each generation to prioritize, engage, and raise up the next generation of Christ followers. In other words, every generation must prioritize and be attentive to the faith of the upcoming generation. The youth in our church will one day have to make the same commitment and prioritize the generation coming behind them, and so on and so forth. The biblical story is replete with emphases on the importance of older generations prioritizing the faith and maturity of younger generations (see Deut. 4:9-10, 6:4-9, 11:18-21, Ps. 78:1-8, Titus 2:1-6). So, giving priority and emphasis to the younger generation isn't simply a matter of taste or preference. It's a matter of biblical faithfulness.

This can be scary for lots of us. But remember this: Church isn't about our nostalgia and sentimental attachment to days gone by. It's about advancing the mission of the Kingdom across the generations. Today, Josh is going to help us process this biblical vision and challenge us to "grow young," not just for sake of our youth, but for the sake of our future.

There is an attended nursery for ages 6 months to 36 months.

Guests: Please fill out a yellow attendance card and drop it in the collection plate.
